

How To Order

Are you ordering from a House Collection, or are you creating Bespoke Stationery?

House Collection

All of our pre-designed House Collections can be found on our website. Each one can be tailored to fit your wedding and theme. If you're unsure on which collection to go for then sample packs are available to order from our website.

First – choose your design and work out how many you'll need. I'd suggest following the 'one per household' rule and include anyone living at that address on one invitation. However, if there are children living at that address who are adults then send them a separate invitation. For example, Mr and Mrs Smith and their 20 year old son and partner would need two separate invitations. You can use our Invitation Calculator to help you workout how many invitations you'll need. At this stage, you can get a rough estimate of the cost of your invites using our Price List. I always say order at least five more than you think you need – it's a good idea to have spares!

Then – tell us how many you'll need, and your chosen design and we can send you an accurate quote. We'll send your quote via email, and if you're happy to go ahead then we'll also send you the Wedding Invitation Information Form and an invoice for 50% of the total cost as a deposit. Once the completed Wedding Invitation Information Form has been returned and the initial deposit has been paid, we'll send you a digital proof of your design. If needed, small changes can be made at this stage. Please note, we can't send physical samples of your design due to our copyright policies. Once you are happy with your design we'll send you a sign-off form, which you are required to sign before we print and hand-finish your stationery.

At this stage the remaining 50% of the total cost will be required.

Bespoke Stationery

If you already have an idea then we can help you bring it to life! Our Bespoke Stationery service means you can design your stationery from start to finish – from the colours and the fonts to the cardstock and envelope style.

First – we can either meet in person, have a Stationery Consultation or discuss ideas over email. A Pinterest board can be useful too – it helps us to understand what style or theme you have in mind. At this stage we'll also send over an estimate quote including any bespoke design fees.

Next – we'll send you a sample pack. Please note Bespoke Sample Packs cost £20 – this is to cover the cost of creating one off samples, and is redeemable against the total cost of your stationery if you choose to go ahead with us. We can personalise cardstock, colours, names and fonts however we cannot personalise these samples with any of your wedding details (date, venue etc.)

Then – when you've received your samples we'll arrange a call to discuss and refine the ideas. We can then send you an accurate quote. We'll send your quote via email and if you're happy to go ahead then we'll also send you the Wedding Invitation Information Form and an invoice for 50% of the total cost as a deposit (minus the cost of your Sample Pack). Once the completed Wedding Invitation Information Form has been returned and the deposit has been paid we'll send you a digital proof of your final design – if needed, small changes can be made. Once you're happy with your design, we'll send you a sign-off form, which you are required to sign before we print and hand-finish your stationery.

At this stage, the remaining 50% of the total cost will be required.

Finally – when your invitations are ready we'll be in touch to arrange delivery. If you're local then we're happy to hand deliver your stationery. If you're further afield then we'll post them either via Royal Mail Special Delivery or DPD Next Day, and we'll provide you with the tracking details.
