The Full Package...

To make life easier, we've created stationery packages, ranging from a pre-wedding package to a full-wedding package.

What's the difference between the packages?

We offer both design-only, and printed packages.

We also offer standard and deluxe versions - so there'll be something to suit every budget. You can see the difference in our table below, but here's a few pointers that may help you decide...

Design-Only Packages

Our design-only packages are just that - the design only!

We will design your stationery, and you can print it at home or using an online printing company. PLEASE NOTE - you will not receive any physical items should you choose one of our design-only packages. You will only receive the digital, print-ready artwork files.

Printed Packages

Our printed packages means we'll design, print and assemble your stationery. You'll receive physical, printed items.

Pre-Wedding Packages

These packages include anything that's required before your wedding day - ie. Save the Dates, Invitations and Evening Invitations.

'On the Day' Packages

These packages include any stationery that guests will see on your wedding day, e.g. Table Plan, Place Name Cards, Table Numbers, etc.

Full Wedding Packages

These packages include both pre-wedding and on the day items.

These are available in both standard and deluxe options.

What's the difference between standard and deluxe?

A standard package includes a core collection of our most popular wedding items. The deluxe package includes additional items that will add a little extra to your day, or finishing touches, such as shaped stationery, wax seals and personalised options.

What items does each package include?

We've outlined what's included in each of the packages in the table below. It also includes the total package cost at the bottom of each column.
